INTRODUCING OUR EXPERTS

Dave Gilmore Vice President of Sales

Dave brings integrity and more than 25 years' worth of Goss newspaper, commercial and packaging press experience to the imPRESSIONS team.

He places great importance on our value-added sales approach working hard to assess the customer's need and best position them for long-term success. Dave works in collaboration with the sales and marketing team to pursue business development that ultimately leads to satisfied customers.

He travels extensively from his home office in Southern California and spends time at our headquarters near Seattle.

"iW takes great care in properly executing projects and delivering results without compromise"

Our team has been carefully selected over the decades and has hundreds of years' worth of experience with rotary web offset newspaper, commercial and flexible packaging presses. We work hard, have great passion and are committed to high quality standards as we understand that our success hinges on yours.
